I was born several years ago in the Ancient City of Kano, Nigeria where I attained Primary, Secondary and University education. Since attaining manhood, I have lived in the major cities across the length and breadth of Nigeria acquiring experience through my association with people from various works of life.

My working experiences inter alia include: - Brand Ambassador for Nokia, Logistics Agent for Globacom Nigeria under the auspices of Jofos Industries Limited and Journalism. As a Journalist, my works include scriptwriting and news reporting for "Your Products And You", a program sponsored by the Standards Organization of Nigeria, SON on NTA Network and NTA International, production of documentaries for SON and the Nigeria Export Promotion Council (NEPC) and others. I am currently working at Nigeria Social Insurance Trust Fund, NSITF as a Senior Staff.

I have qualifications in Social Policy And Administration, Public Administration, Special Education and Political Science.

My views are to have a world where the deprivations that we feel can be addressed adequately. I believe that such world is possible.
